

Morning Communings With God: Or, Devotional Meditations for Every Day in the Year (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Morning Communings With God: Or, Devotional Meditations for Every Day in the Year The name of Sturm has become so naturalized amongst us, that we scarcely remember that the honour of his birth appertains not to our country; and there are few of our native productions so extensively known, so generally applauded, or perused with so much pleasure as that sweet exotic - the Reflections. To transplant, therefore, at length, though late, another flower from the sacred parterre of this devout and elegant author into the soil of British literature and worship, is a lot, in which, were my reputation and avocations as lofty and brilliant as they are lowly and obscure, I could not otherwise than boast and rejoice.
