

“MY OWN AFFAIR” is my debut book and one of two little girl dreams come true. My passion, art, craft and writing career began between 3-5yrs of age. Words fascinated me despite my ADHD style brain which with its many struggles its strengths words cannot properly define. The flow of writing and piecing words together like a puzzle to form free flowing sentences has been a life savior for me. Superstarr*’s first book is a story which relates over a year of Sara’s life, as told through a chronological compilation of correspondences via email, text, Facebook messaging, phone conversations, and first-person interludes. Sara is a beautiful, outgoing, independent woman in her mid-thirties who is still looking for love and isn’t ashamed to admit it. She believes that human by nature are not monogamous, and that it is a choice ~ monogamy according to the “Superstarr*” Files is a choice two people make to be committed solely to one another. Part two to that definition is a choice to cheat and therefore not be monogamous. The fact that Sara has a track record of being attracted to and by unavailable men tends to re-enforce this believe, and the relationships she has with them range from platonic friendship to carnal lust to real love. This book explores such issues as fidelity, trust, betrayal, faith, addiction, and loyalty; the characters are the people Sara corresponds with over the course of sixteen months, and the content is comprised of those actual correspondences. Some parts are quite graphic, as Sara has never been one to shy away from embracing her strong feminine sexuality. Throughout the narrative, a message of hope and perseverance is constant, as it is her habit to contain inspirational quotations, poems, and witticisms in many of her letters. This book is a book about people and relationships.
